Bluebook 2005 Cost Guides

Over 43 years of experience and countless man-hours have been dedicated to the research of hundreds of reconstruction and repair costs trades and literally millions of line items throughout thousands of cities in North America. It still remains the industry's only cleaning, repair and reconstruction cost guide to include component based pricing, trade by trade depreciation and unit cost tables for residential and light commercial structures.

The Bluebook has 43 years of experience in setting industry standards and reporting fair and accurate residential and light commercial reconstruction, repair and cleaning costs - Years of experience now at your fingertips. No other cost guide offers the same!

A standard in "fair and accurate pricing". Know your prices. Estimate with confidence. Get the job done right!

Blue Book Cost Guide Features

Our credibility comes from 43 years of interacting with the industries we serve. We report pricing from in-depth research of current market costs and weighted, area specific pricing components that effect and make up each price.
