El Toro Truckmounts, LLC is proud to announce their new line of truck mounted multi-surface cleaning units. With over 36 years combined industry experience El Toros' design team has gone back to the basics. We here at El Toro have serviced every make and model of truck mount imaginable. We have taken what we learned and created a basic platform that is completely accessible.

There are only 7 pressure hoses on any machine we build. We have come up with an "on demand chemical system" that eliminates the problematic chemical pump system. If you have ever had to replace the chemical pump diaphragm you know. We have also eliminated the by-pass orifice and solenoid. No more heat spikes and troubleshooting heat control issues is a breeze!

When it comes to the drive system El Toro didn't reinvent the wheel, we just tweaked it a little.

This coupler configuration allows you to replace the element without moving the engine or blower. You no longer have to break everything down and go to the mechanic. You simply remove the retainer clip, discard the old element, and install the new one. I know, I know, it is never that easy but it really is! Replacing the pump belt is almost as easy. We left sufficient space between the blower and engine so once again, you do not have to move the engine or blower.
