100" of water lift, and a 1,750W inline heater — all in a self-contained 12-gallon unit. This package ships complete with the 13" Sharp Shooter wand and 25' hose set, giving professional carpet cleaners everything needed to start on site without sourcing accessories separately.

The Pegasus Pro 500H is designed for contract carpet cleaners, janitorial service companies, and in-house facility teams responsible for high-traffic commercial flooring. Hotels and hospitality venues rely on heated extraction to remove food soils and oils from corridor and ballroom carpet that cold-water units cannot fully address. Office buildings and corporate campuses use the 12-gallon tank to work multiple suites before returning to a water source. Healthcare facilities and schools benefit from the 500 PSI capability to flush residue from high-pile and Berber carpet that accumulates allergens and biological soils. The 25' hose set provides enough reach to clean entire conference rooms or hotel rooms without repositioning the machine at the door. Cleaning contractors handling multi-unit residential turnovers find the Sharp Shooter wand precise enough for stair risers and tight alcoves.

The 05-10037-001 model designation specifically bundles the Pegasus Pro 500H extractor body with the 13" Sharp Shooter wand and a 25' solution/vacuum hose set. The Sharp Shooter is a dual-jet stainless wand with a 13" cleaning head — wider than a standard 12" wand — allowing slightly faster single-stroke passes on open floor areas while still fitting standard hallways. Heated extraction works by passing solution through the 1,750W inline heater element before it exits the wand jets, elevating solution temperature to improve soil solubility and reduce the chemical dwell time required. Hot solution also accelerates moisture evaporation after extraction, shortening carpet dry times in commercial settings where closed areas cannot be kept off-limits for extended periods. The dual 3-stage vacuum motors in parallel configuration maintain 100" of water lift consistently even as the recovery tank fills, preventing performance drop-off mid-job.
