Description
The US Products Neptune 1200 is a dual-vac multi-surface extractor capable of cleaning carpet, tile, grout, and hard surfaces. Dual vacuum motors deliver higher water lift than single-motor units, improving moisture recovery and dry times across both carpet and hard floor surfaces. The machine-only listing (05-10012) ships without wand, hose, or tools — intended for contractors who own compatible extraction equipment and want the Neptune 1200 body only.

The Neptune 1200's multi-surface capability makes it a single-machine solution for commercial facilities where both carpet and hard flooring are present — a common configuration in hotels (corridors and rooms: carpet; lobbies and restrooms: tile), schools (classrooms: carpet tiles; hallways and cafeterias: VCT or tile), and healthcare facilities. The dual vacuum system lifts moisture from both surfaces, though hard surface extraction through a rotary tool like the Revolver XP (available in the 05-10012-P package) produces the most thorough results on tile and grout. The Neptune 1200 is positioned above the Neptune 500H in the US Products line, with higher-capacity tanks and a larger body suited to commercial contractors running full-shift cleaning operations.
