Fits / Used On

- Rug Doctor carpet extractor machines
- Kent C-4
- Carpet Express
- Numatic George Cleaner
- Select Kärcher / Home Depot rental style extractors
- Other machines originally equipped with Foremost or Gotec style solenoid pumps

Important Replacement Note
The factory has advised that the original Foremost pump is being replaced by an equivalent Gotec style pump beginning around May 2026. Appearance may vary, but the pump supplied is intended to replace the original part number ordered.
Common Symptoms of a Failed or Restricted Pump System

- Machine has vacuum suction but no solution spray
- Pump clicks or hums but does not move water
- Weak or intermittent spray from the tool or wand
- Solution tank is full but no water reaches the spray jet

Before Replacing the Pump
Many “no spray” problems are caused by clogged jets, blocked filters, kinked hoses, bad switches, wiring issues, or air leaks. Before ordering, verify that power is reaching the pump and that the solution path is clean and open.

FAQ
Will this fix a Rug Doctor that does not spray?
Possibly. This pump is a common replacement part when the spray pump has failed, but clogged spray tips, filters, hoses, or wiring issues can create the same symptom.
Is this the original Foremost pump?
The factory has advised that the Foremost pump may be replaced by an equivalent Gotec style pump. The part shipped may look different from the original but is intended as the replacement for part number 20130725.
Can I return it if my machine has another problem?
Electrical and special-order repair parts should be diagnosed before purchase. Please confirm fitment and machine condition before ordering.
Photos are for reference only. Always verify by part number, machine model, and original pump style before ordering.
