Yellow Yellow Winged Wire Nut Each for 22-10 Gauge Wires

Standard winged wire connectors are similar to other wire connectors, except the shell has winged tabs and a knurled surface providing for a better grip. Winged wire connectors are designed to offset from their centerline for greater twisting leverage while still providing a secure connection.

Winged connectors allow you to make tight connections without the use of a tool.
All are color-coded for fast and easy identification and size selection.
Copper to copper connections only.
