8-3/4" Diameter X 3-3/4" Height
Features honey comb bottom for deep extraction right through the carpet and carpet cushion.
Includes hanging hole to safely store when not in use.
USA Patent number: 8661606
GTIN 653341064943

One of the brilliant features of this invention is that you can connect it directly as an alternate head to your existing wet-dry vacuum cleaner. Before you begin to tackle a freshly made stain, pour some diluted solution onto the soiled patch to the point of saturation and then place the SpotVac over top. When the mechanism gets going, you'll witness speedy swirling of fluid under the transparent surface as the steam cleaner alternative draws liquid, color and odor out of your area rug and installed carpet and carpet padding!

The complex chemical process can harmfully affect your carpet over a period of time from spills and stains. However, experts feel that the original predicament doesn’t come from the affected carpet surface, but the spills (and other dirty substances) traveling deep down the layer of your carpet’s sub-surface and staying contaminated for long periods of time. In this regard, professional carpet cleaners utilize the ‘Sub-Surface Extraction’ technology to remove the settled contaminants from under the carpet. And, now quite fortunately the technology has made its way to our domestic scope via the SpotVac appliance. Delivering the same level of the advanced Sub-Surface Extraction power, this device can seriously come in handy for more rigorous and effective cleaning of our carpets and floors.

Functionally, the SpotVac is to be coupled with a common wet-vac. This wet-vac (a 2.5 horsepower or larger will do.)
